

hi, I'm Temple

Sociologist, Entrepreneur,
Modern Stationer & Founder of Flamingo Society Stationery

Temple Smith is a sociologist, entrepreneur, modern stationer and founder of Flamingo Society Stationery, a culturally reflective line of planners and stationery for women. Temple launched Flamingo Society in 2015, to encourage women to be intentionally committed to their dreams, plans and use cute, quality paper to do so.

A Detroit native, she earned her Ph.D. from Michigan State University. Using her academic background in Sociology, Temple weaves together insights, observations, and data to design thoughtful planners, strategies and workshops that assist women to “write it down and make it happen”, identify patterns, pursue change and target results.

Temple is an avid reader, collector of Emily Post manuals, vintage opera glasses, and coffee drinker. Temple currently lives in Holland, MI with her adorable Shih Tzu “Espresso”.

Temple brings a track record of integrity, innovation, content expertise and experience to every event-oh, and she also brings her planner!

Speaking Topics

- ✓ Working Remotely
- ✓ Collaborative Leadership
- ✓ Organizational Cultures
- ✓ Organization

Recent Places & Spaces

Online lecture series on Apple books • The Detroit Hustle Podcast •
Jack and Jill Lansing chapter • Trinity Western, British Columbia • Women in Action